

Solar Power Following for Heat Pump Water Heater

- Solar power generation is variable. Most energy is produced during mid-day when residents are away.
- Self-consumption is the best way to utilize solar energy and avoid grid problems.
- Heat pump water heaters are very energy efficient and can store energy.
- Build a small scale model and computer code to determine the best strategy for running the water heater.