

E9

Recycled Water for Cooling Towers

- Cooling towers are an energy efficient way to remove heat from buildings and power plants.
- A lot of water is consumed in the process.
- Some cooling towers as UCSD have been converted to use recycled water.
- The project team will compare the delta T of cooling towers running on fresh water versus recycled water.

